Dear Josh,

It looks as though I will have a position open for a post-doctoral person for one year beginning September 1955. Do you have anyone to recommend? "Inheritance of enzymes" is the broad title of the project, and any microorganism may serve as the material. However, I have a well-defined program underway, and I would prefer to have someone who would be agreeable to working on a problem of my choosing, rather than of his. }

New Ph.D's receive about $415/month here; I don't have to tell you about climate and working conditions.

Best regards to Esther and yourself,

Cordially,

Ed
